Three blood drives planned in area

To maintain an adequate blood supply during and after the Labor Day weekend, three blood drives will be held.

On Friday, Aug. 31, the Red Cross will conduct a blood drive from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Education Center of the Price Support Center on Illinois Route 3 and Niedringhaus Avenue.

On Saturday, Sept. 1, the Long Lake Fire Department, 4113 Pontoon Road, will sponsor a blood drive from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the station. Free cholesterol tests will be offered to donors.

On Tuesday, Sept. 4, Sanford-Brown Business College, 3237 West Chain of Rocks Road, will sponsor a blood drive from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in one of its classrooms.

BAC sets classes at high school

Granite City residents may choose from a variety of classes to be offered this fall at Granite City High School through Belleville Area College.

Registration will be taken through Friday at the college's Granite City Campus, 4501 Maryville Road, or by calling 931-0600.

Tip of the hat

William Sternberg, Thomas Memorial Mortuary Ltd., Granite City, was appointed to the Emergency Response Committee of the Illinois Funeral Directors Association. The assignment will include implementing the Emergency Response Plan that Sternberg helped draft in the past year. The plan is designed to assure that, should a major disaster occur, trained coordinators will be available to assist officials in identification procedures and preparation of remains.

Airport authority creation on ballot

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP — Voters will have a chance to determine whether Lakeside Airport will survive and be expanded as a tax-supported airport.

Madison County Associate Judge Gordon Maag has issued a court order instructing the county clerks of Madison and St. Clair counties to put a referendum on the Nov. 6 ballot, allowing voters to decide whether to create the Lakeside Airport Authority. A simple majority will decide the matter.

Maag issued his ruling after a group of local people, headed by attorney Morris Chapman, got more than 500 signatures on a petition to the court.

Voters eligible to vote on the issue include those in the City of Granite City, the City of Collinsville, the Village of Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township. Collinsville includes parts of both Madison and St. Clair counties.

An airport authority, according to Section 15½ of the Illinois Revised Statutes, has the power to acquire property by eminent domain, to levy taxes and to issue tax-secured revenue bonds.

Chapman said the maximum tax the authority could levy is ¾ percent of assessed valuation, or 7.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Jim Biddilli, chief planning engineer for the Division of Aeronautics of the Illinois Department of Transportation, said federal and state funds are available for about 95 percent of the cost of land acquisition and runway construction.

But any other structures, such as hangars, would have to be financed through taxes or tax-secured revenue bonds, Biddilli said.

A feasibility study costing between $70,000 and $120,000 would have to be conducted first, and the state would pay for about half of that, Biddilli said.

The fate of the 50-year-old airport near Illinois 111 and State Aid 35, on the east shore of Horseshoe Lake, has been in doubt for some time.

Before his death in August 1989, the airport's owner, Bill Nichols, had announced his intention to close Lakeside. He had already plowed under two of its three grass runways.

After Nichols died, a committee was formed with members from Granite City and Collinsville to look into saving the airport. But the committee met only one time.

"It's just been bogged down," said Rick Regh, a member of the Collinsville Planning Commission and the man who chaired the meeting. "It's up to the respective cities to work this project out."

If voters approve the referendum on the airport, a minimum of five members would be appointed to an airport authority, Biddilli said. He said that under the usual procedure, each mayor would get to appoint a commission member.

The authority would then apply to IDOT for a grant for site feasibility and environmental studies.

Harry Sterling, the attorney for the Nichols estate, said the Lakeside property was for sale. He said 149 acres had been appraised at about $10,000 an acre.

Hundreds of people learned to fly airplanes at Lakeside after World War II. It was several of those people who gathered the petitions that secured a spot on the ballot for the referendum.

Morris Chapman, who learned how to fly at Lakeside in 1954, said he got involved out of "nostalgia," adding, "If something isn't done now, it will never be an airport again."

But Chapman added that the airport would enhance the area's chances of attracting new business because executives look for easy access by air when choosing sites for new plants.

There are already three airports in the Metro East system: St. Louis Regional Airport in Beltholt, St. Louis Downtown Parks Airport in Cahokia and Metro East Airport near Troy.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said he was very much in favor of developing Lakeside into a full-fledged airport and hailed Judge Maag's order. "That's great. Maybe we can get a little something going on it," Cruse said.

Out of Germany

TP, blueberries are among West's benefits

GRANITE CITY — Erwin and Christa Oehlmann think Mikhail Gorbachev is the greatest thing since sliced bread, in part because they can now buy another impressive product that Americans take for granted — good toilet paper.

The Oehlmanns are from Wernigerode, Germany, which was part of the German Democratic Republic — East Germany. They are here visiting Christa's sister, Gitta Caughron, wife of Don Caughron, who owns Don's Hardware Store on Delmar Avenue downtown.

While the Oehlmanns were visiting at the hardware store Friday afternoon, Don Caughron got them laughing by producing a roll of coarse, gray toilet paper he had brought home in May after the Caughrons visited them in Wernigerode.

Before Gorbachev tore down the Berlin Wall last November, paving the way for the reunification of the two Germanys, that horrific paper had been the finest toilet paper to be had in East Germany.

Decent toilet paper is, of course, not the only benefit of the dissolution of the Soviet empire. Early Thursday morning, for example, the Oehlmanns boarded a wide-body jet airplane for only their second trip outside of East Germany. The first was to Prague, Czechoslovakia, which was also part of the East Bloc.

Wernigerode, a town about the same size as Granite City, is in a mountainous region about a half-hour by car from the former border with West Germany. For years, atop a tall peak called Brocken near the border, stood an electronic listening post and garrison for Soviet and East German troops.

No one was allowed to come closer than about three miles of the mountain. In February, the listening post with its tall radio towers was torn down.

That's another difference. Now, thousands of people visit the site daily to enjoy the view and pick the mountain blueberries famous for their quality and quantity.

It has been 45 years since the people of that region could enjoy those berries.

Toilet paper and blueberries. In such seemingly inconsequential things are reflected the tremendous changes that have taken place in the world because of one man, Mikhail Gorbachev. "That's great. Maybe we can get a little something going on it," Cruse said.

"Communism is kaput," said Erwin Oehlmann through his sister-in-law's translation, "but Gorbachev is OK. He gave our country freedom."

He went on for a minute. Gitta condensed it all:

"What he's saying is, if it wasn't for Gorbachev, he wouldn't be here."

Where he is, at this moment, is in an aisle of Caughron's store, perusing an array of hardware items he would have had to wait months to get in East Germany before the walls came tumbling down.

Other things have changed too, with more changes to come. For instance, Oehlmann was forced into retirement upon reaching 60 this year.

That is the retirement age in West Germany, and when the two countries took steps toward merging their economies earlier this year, Oehlmann found himself retired from his job as a supervisor at a construction materials plant.

Price Center to pay environmental fine

GRANITE CITY — Under terms of a consent agreement between the U.S. Army and the state of Illinois, the Army will pay an $8,000 fine for violations of the state's Environmental Protection Act of the Charles Melvin Price Support Center.

Attorney General Neil Hartigan filed suit in September 1989 in U.S. District Court in East St. Louis, alleging that the Price Support Center operated nine large fuel tanks without getting air-pollution operating permits for the tanks.

The tanks, ranging in size from 5,000 to 126,000 gallons, contained "vapor balance systems" to allow the release of vapors into the air if internal pressures reached unacceptable levels.

Illinois law requires air-pollution operating permits for all such devices, and the federal Clean Air Act requires federal agencies to comply with state environmental laws.

The Army did not obtain the necessary permits for the tanks until December 1989, 2½ months after Hartigan filed suit.

Bob Hunt, a spokesman for the Army Aviation Systems Command, said the Army did not dispute Hartigan's accusations, but he said the violations were the result of ignorance rather than willful wrongdoing.

"There was no environmental damage," Hunt said. He said it was simply a matter of not filling out paperwork.

"It's akin to your not having a driver's license," Hunt said, but he conceded that "ignorance is not an excuse."

The agreement marks the first time a federal agency has paid a penalty for violation of Illinois environmental laws and is one of only a few instances in which a state has won a judgment from the federal government in an environmental case.

Ohio won a similar case against the U.S. Air Force.

The $8,000 will be paid to the state's Environmental Trust Fund.

Where are our worst intersections?

As a public service, the Press-Record/Journal is running a survey to determine what readers feel are our most hazardous streets. Many times community leaders either are not aware of dangers or do not feel spurred to action until public outcry. We feel there are many such locations like this, but we'd rather you tell us.

Here's how the survey works: Fill in the blanks below. Return the form by Sept. 15 to the Press-Record/Journal, 1815 Delmar, Granite City, Ill. Tell us in as few words as possible why the intersections you've chosen are hazardous.

Limit your choices to those blocks in our coverage area, Granite City, Mitchell, Pontoon Beach, Madison, Venice and Nameoki Township.

I feel the following intersection is the most hazardous:

Why?

Name (optional)

Phone (optional)

Battery charge filed after incident

Joseph H. Wade, 47, of the 2900 block of Willow Avenue was booked for battery Aug. 15 for allegedly punching and kicking Mary F. Broyles of the same block. Broyles was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Wade was released on $32 bail.

Arrested on warrant

Michael J. Messick, 31, of the 3100 block of W. Chain of Rocks Road was picked up Aug. 16 on state warrant for probation violation.

TV set, microwave taken

Barbara F. Justice of the 2400 block of E. 25th Street reported a burglary at her residence Aug. 15. The burglar apparently reached through a broken window to unlock a storm door. Taken were a $300 television set, a $300 microwave oven, a tool box with assorted tools valued at $300 and a three-horsepower lawn mower taken from the back yard.

Granite City

Protection order cited

Kerry A. Nollen, 25, of the 2800 block of Denver Street was arrested Aug. 16 and charged with violating a court order of protection. The order had been issued to protect Janet S. Wells of the 2800 block of Denver.

Twice earlier in the evening, police were called to Wells' residence. On the first occasion, according to Wells, finding Nollen at her home, she went next door to call police. When they arrived, Nollen was gone.

In the second instance, Wells left for about two hours, returned home and found all the locks changed and Nollen's tool box inside the residence, but no Nollen.

She went out again. When she came back, at about 11:30 p.m., she found Nollen sitting inside and called police again. He was held pending $102 bail.

Money taken from closet

Larry D. Garrison of the 1700 block of Edison Avenue reported that somebody forced open a window of his apartment Aug. 14 and took $300 from a jacket hanging in a closet.

Purse taken from home

Daniel Hull of the 2600 block of Iowa Street reported that somebody burglarized his residence during the night of Aug. 16-17 and took his wife's purse, which contained five credit cards and miscellaneous identification. Entry was gained by cutting a hole in a window screen.

Man hit, another charged

Wayne S. Taylor, 19, of the 2100 block of Delmar Avenue was booked for battery Aug. 16 for beating Ron Bell of the 1400 block of Madison Avenue. Bell, taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with his eyes swollen nearly shut, was treated there and released. Taylor, when arrested at 15th Street and Madison Avenue, allegedly admitted hitting Bell.

Caught with no license

Randy J. Ingram, 38, of the 2900 block of Edgewood Avenue was stopped while driving on 27th Street at Washington Avenue on Aug. 17 for allegedly disobeying a stop sign.

A records check showed that Ingram's driver's license had been revoked and that he was wanted for failure to pay a fine imposed for driving under the influence of alcohol. He was also cited for running the stop sign.

Wayside burglarized

The Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., was burglarized after closing hours on Aug. 17. An undetermined amount of cash was taken. Entry was gained by kicking in the front door.

Car burglarized on State.

The auto of James E. Williams of Collinsville was burglarized while parked near the American Legion Hall, 1825 State St., during the Aug. 17-19 weekend. Its door was pried open. Taken were a citizen's band radio, two stereo speakers and a cooler.

SURVEYING THE DAMAGE: Linda Gillian, 23, came home for lunch Friday afternoon and found her apartment in the Village Lane Apartments on fire. Her husband, Grant, called the Granite City fire department when he discovered the kitchen wall was ablaze while he was preparing lunch. The fire started inside a common wall when pipes were being worked on in the apartment behind the Gillians'. The fire damaged the kitchen ceiling and wall. Smoke and water damage also occurred in the kitchen and living room.

Stereo speakers stolen

Cash taken in burglary

Somebody entered the Mini Mall CB at 3669 Nameoki Road between Aug. 12 and 15 and took $1,020 in cash. There was no sign of forced entry, but an alarm sensor had been torn loose.

Tools taken by burglar

Dennis Hardesty of Wilson Park Lane reported that somebody entered his garage during the night of Aug. 15-16 and took a cordless drill and a circular saw with a combined value of $330.

Burglar gets chain, cash

Donald Ray Selden of 19th Street reported Aug. 10 that an intruder had searched his apartment and stolen a 10-inch gold chain worth $70 and $100 cash. Selden discovered the burglary when he was unable to unlock the door with his key.

Granite City

Driving warrant served

Steven Patrick Cigelske, 30, of the 4000 block of Kathy Drive, Pontoon Beach, was arrested by an Illinois State Police trooper on a traffic charge at 7 p.m. Aug. 10 and then was taken to Granite City and served a warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving while his license was suspended.

Pacesetters to spark United Way campaign

GRANITE CITY — The Tri-Cities Area United Way is gearing up for its annual fall campaign.

Campaign Chairman Jack Lee has announced that seven major companies have agreed to be Pacesetters. These companies will conduct their employee solicitation for the United Way prior to the scheduled eight-week fund drive.

"We are very fortunate to have seven of our major employers commit to doing Pacesetter campaigns," Lee said.

"These companies are pledging their support and commitment to our community by setting the pace for the landmark United Way campaign in 1990." The results of the Pacesetter employee campaigns will be announced at the fund-drive kickoff Sept. 6.

In addition to running their employee group campaigns early, the companies will strive to increase their total employee contributions by a minimum of 20 percent.

Each Pacesetter company has active employee volunteers working to make their campaign a success. These employees have taken time to learn about the United Way and the 23 agencies supported by the annual United Way campaign.

"I wasn't aware the United Way did so much for so many," said Tim Ballard, executive drive co-chairman for the Lanter Company.

"The opportunity for Lanter to participate as a Pacesetter is exciting because the employees of Lanter are concerned people and care about the needs of their fellow human beings. Sharing makes everyone feel good."

Twenty-three health and human care agencies and dozens of programs meeting the needs of families, youth and the elderly will benefit from the dollars raised during the United Way campaign.

These funds are generated from three major areas: corporate contributions, employee group contributions within companies, and individual contributions.

The companies participating as Pacesetters are: Air Products Distribution, Air Products PSG, The Delivery Network, The First National Bank in Madison, Lanter Company, St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Terminal Railroad Association.

Vietnam veteran tribute

By Martin Richter

Staff writer

BELEVILLE — Don Rousch, president of Vietnam Veterans of America Metro East Chapter 309, describes Tribute '90 as part of the healing process for area Vietnam veterans.

"We just saw the need to show the veterans that there is a place for them; they are recognized," said Rousch, of Red Bud.

This year's third annual tribute will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 25-26, at the Belle Clair Fairgrounds in Belleville.

It will include more than 30 booths offering information on services for veterans, and educational displays on the Vietnam war and the Vietnam era.

Tribute '90 also will include a car show Sunday featuring 30 classes, a performance of "camouflage rock 'n' roll" by the band Vette, at 8 p.m. Saturday, and appearances by Ramon Franco, who plays Cpl. Reuz on the CBS-TV series "Tour of Duty."

Last year's tribute drew about 8,000 people over the two days, Rousch said.

While the tribute is partly intended to honor Vietnam veterans and help them get information on services available to them, Rousch said, it also is intended to educate and entertain those who are not veterans.

"We really encourage the participation of the general public," Rousch said. "It can help educate the young, because a lot of it is not in the history books."

"My little girl is in the fifth grade, and there was only three quarters of a page on the Vietnam war in her history book.

"It's just a fun and enjoyable event that we hope will be educational for everybody," he added.

Vietnam Veterans of America Metro East Chapter 309, which sponsors the annual event, covers St. Clair, Randolph and Monroe counties and part of Madison County.

For more information on Tribute '90, Don Rousch can be called at 282-3682 or Ernie Hull at 588-4267.

Local Number (314) 257-4999

'One-plus' phase-out later this year

GRANITE CITY — Because Illinois Bell customers now have expanded local calling areas, 1 + dialing no longer automatically indicates that a call is long distance, a company spokesperson said this month.

"Many customers who always linked one-plus dialing to long-distance charges will still be doing that, even though that's not always the case with our recent rate restructuring," explained Mary McCormick, community relations manager for Illinois Bell.

"That's why it's important to stress that the entire Metro East area is one local calling area."

"Any call made in the Metro East area, regardless of the length of the call or whether a '1' must be dialed before the seven-digit number, costs about a nickel or less for residence customers."

McCormick made the statement to clear up confusion among some residents in the Belleville area who thought calls to the St. Clair County Courthouse had become long distance. "Even though those residents now must dial 1 + 277-6600 to reach the courthouse, it remains a local call."

Before the local calling area was expanded, St. Clair County had paid additional charges to provide residents of Granite City, East St. Louis, Cahokia and several other communities with a local number to reach the courthouse.

Since the courthouse is now in the local calling area, the special number is no longer needed and it has been disconnected. Calls are now referred to 1 + 277-6600.

McCormick said that the 1 + seven-digit dialing on calls within the 618 area code is a temporary arrangement and will be dropped later this year.

On Dec. 1, the company plans for all calls within the 618 area to be connected by dialing a seven-digit number.

The company will provide customers with more information on this change in special mailings.

"We are moving as quickly as possible to reprogram equipment in our switching centers that will eliminate the need to dial 1 when reaching any number in the 618 area code," she said.

Snake bites in Middle East worry Pentagon

By Tracy Corrington
Staff News Service

WASHINGTON — U.S. soldiers in the Middle East may be scanning the horizon and eyeing the heavens for the enemy. But the Pentagon quietly fears that a more immediate danger lurks underfoot.

The threat of Egyptian Cobras, Saw-Scaled Vipers and other poisonous desert snakes has the military staking a snake-bite expert to protect its forces from toxic venoms in the sand.

One chomp from any of these snakes can mean quick death as the venom destroys the nervous system or triggers fatal internal bleeding, snake experts say.

The search, conducted by the Armed Forces Pest Management Board, began Wednesday with a call to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service here.

"We'd like to have some personnel there (in Saudi Arabia) who will be able to identify the snakes," said Robert Wardwell, an entomologist with the board. "It's a medical threat for us. I'm sure our people aren't familiar with what goes on over there."

According to information provided by the board, there are at least 10 species of poisonous snakes in Saudi Arabia that live in rocky hillsides, deserts and populated areas.

Among them are the Egyptian Cobra, the Saw-Scaled Viper, the Desert Black Snake, the Puff Adder, the Arabian Bull Viper, and the Sahara Sand Viper.

Toxic effects from these bites include tissue damage, uncontrollable internal bleeding, nervous-system failure and death within 10 to 15 minutes.

There is no specific military gear that repels snakes, although high-topped combat boots offer some protection, said Cmdr. James Trosper, an agency spokesman.

Dr. Thomas H. Fritt, a biologist with the Interior Department's Division of Fish and Wildlife, said his office was able to give the board a "couple of leads" as to the whereabouts of snake-bite experts, but did not have anything concrete.

"There is one expert in Britain or Europe who we'll try to track down," Fritt said.

Children who work should know federal income tax laws

By Sylvia Porter
Los Angeles Times syndicate

If your children are working this summer—as a lifeguard, babysitter, waitress, whatever—they may be visualizing payments for college or a new car. These are great intentions, but you must be certain your children know about taxes.

Parents should be aware of money their children earn in the summer and throughout the school year, say the editors of Bender's Federal Tax Service. If income is not reported and filed properly, there can be serious tax consequences.

Whenever anyone begins a job, including kids, a withholding certificate, form W-4, must be signed. A minor, 18 or under, who is generating income has the same tax-filing obligation as any other citizen.

An individual is ordinarily required to file an income tax return if gross income exceeds an exemption amount and a standard deduction amount.

In 1990, these are $2,050 and $3,250, respectively, for a total of $5,300.

Because most students are claimed as dependents by their parents, their exemption rate is reduced to zero and they will pay taxes on any amount above $3,250. When a parent is entitled to claim a child as a dependent, the child cannot claim his dependency exemption.

What qualifies a child to be a dependent? A parent or guardian must provide more than half the child's support. The child must be 18 or under.

Between the ages of 19 and 24, the child must be a full-time student in a day program for some part of any five months during the calendar year in which the parent's tax year begins.

If a child is over 18 but under 24 and attends night school, the parents cannot claim dependency. But if the child is enrolled in a day program, even if some classes are at night, the claim is valid.

Minors who earn money and collect interest or dividends, follow a different set of rules. They must report and file taxes for all income added together (earned and unearned) above $500.

There is a special election that allows parents to include their children's income on their returns, but that is available only if the child's income is solely from interest and dividends.

If a child doesn't file a return, a parent can file on his behalf. A parent should sign the child's name followed by his own signature and "Parent of a Minor Child."

Even then, the children are responsible for payment of their own taxes, plus penalties and interest for failure to pay. A child who can be claimed as a dependent must use Form 1040 rather than 1040A or 1040EZ.

Even if your children earn less than the minimum amount that would require filing of a tax return, they should file to get a refund of taxes withheld.

The Internal Revenue Service has developed an exception to tax withholding for part-time and occasional workers, to relieve them from having to file a tax return just to get back withheld wages.

If your child anticipates no income tax liabilities for the current year and none was incurred in the preceding year, an exception certificate may be filed and the employer is not required to withhold on wages.

Also, if your child expects the tax liability to exceed the amount being withheld, a request can be made that the employer withhold an additional amount.

The IRS has cast a particularly scrutinizing eye on two fields in which kids often work: child care and food services.

An employer who intends to claim a child-care credit is obligated to report an employee's income and Social Security number to the IRS.

Cash tips in excess of $20 per month are wages and must be reported to your child's employer. Tell your child the IRS may be estimating how much he is making in tips. It may seem that you quietly can slip $100 cash into a pocket and no one will be the wiser. Not so. The IRS keeps close tabs on food service establishments.

If their employees are not reporting tips, a certain amount may be deemed tips and the amount withheld from the child's paycheck can be calculated, based on a percentage of the restaurant's gross receipts.

Madison County fall tree sale

The Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District is now taking orders for its fall tree sale. The primary purpose is to promote the planting of trees for windbreaks.

The species available are Norway, Spruce, Eastern White Pine, Colorado Blue Spruce and Red Pine. "These trees will make an excellent windbreak, noise barrier or screen and provide a nesting place and cover for wildlife," a spokesman said.

The trees will be sold for $10 per bundle with approximately 10 trees of one kind in a bundle.

To place an order, families may write to the Madison County SWCD, P.O. Box 482, Edwardsville 62025 or call 656-5166 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. They are to send a check or money order with the request.

An order will not be guaranteed until it is paid for.

Trees are to be picked up on Saturday, Sept. 29, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the SWCD office in Edwardsville. Planting instructions and other information will be available on the day of the sale.

Women's equality breakfast

The Missouri Women's Network's third annual Women's Equality Breakfast will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 25, in the Palladium Room of the Cheshire Inn, 6306 Clayton Road.

The breakfast celebrates the anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, granting gave women the right to vote.

The Women's Network will honor Ora Malone and Marcia Mellitz for their work in the field of women's equality; Riverfront Times publisher Ray Hartmann will be the keynote speaker.

Tickets are $15. Proceeds from the event will benefit Redevelopment Opportunities for Women. Persons may call (314) 664-4364 for information and reservations.

In-home elderly care is topic

Anderson Hospital in Maryville will hold a workshop on how families can "care for the elderly in the home" Aug. 21 and 28 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in its third-floor classroom.

The cost is $20, including lunches and a reference manual to be used at home. Registration is required, at 288-5711, extension 447.

National Park Service will celebrate 74 years

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial will note the 74th anniversary of the National Park Service from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Aug. 25 and 26 at St. Louis' Union Station.

Park rangers from the Gateway Arch and elsewhere will present programs of canoeing, gold miners, frontier songs, rangers as firefighters, cowboys, nature's magic and the Fighting 54th, the African-American unit in the Civil War.

Also available will be information about the Park Service, a video presentation of recreational opportunities at the Ozark National Scenic Riverways in Missouri, and programs and displays by the Raptor Rehabilitation and Propagation Project Center of St. Louis.

Educational items relating to national parks also will be sold by the America's National Parks store in Union Station.

On Aug. 25, 1916, President Woodrow Wilson signed legislation creating the National Park Service and authorizing it to administer America's natural and cultural resources. Although there were national parks before then, no specific agency was authorized to manage them.

Today there are more than 355 units of the Park Service.

Iraqi detention rattles ex-St. Louisan

By Carolyn Marty
Staff writer

A brush with danger in the Middle East has left a former area resident more sharply aware of his mortality.

Jeff Edwards said his departure from Iraq on Aug. 9 was an "answer to my prayers."

Edwards, 28, left Baghdad six days after officials detained him and the other 127 foreign passengers of an Iraqi airliner. Iraq invaded and conquered Kuwait on Aug. 2.

"I know I was lucky they let us go," Edwards said Thursday in a telephone interview from Huenor, Switzerland.

He added, "I still keep wondering why I was one of the lucky ones. I don't have an answer to that."

Edwards said the experience challenged his assumptions about himself.

"I remember thinking before this happened that if anything like this ever happened, I would be courageous," he said. "But everybody gets scared. And even though I may have acted courageous, my stomach was not being very courageous."

After enduring such an ordeal, he said, "Everything changes. You realize a lot more about your mortality."

Edwards, a 1980 graduate of Hazelwood Central High School, was the only U.S. citizen aboard the Iraqi airliner.

Most of the passengers were Japanese, French, German and British tourists.

Edwards, who has worked as an English teacher in Japan for the past two years, left Tokyo for Europe on Aug. 2 for a summer vacation.

As the passengers approached the plane to board it again following a scheduled fuel stop in Baghdad, they were told to return to the air terminal.

Edwards said the passengers then were taken to an economy hotel on the outskirts of Baghdad. After two days, Edwards — along with French, German and British passengers — was transferred to a luxury hotel, the Baghdad Palestine Hotel. The remaining tourists remained at the economy hotel.

News from the outside world was limited, Edwards said. Erroneous information that was at war with the United States prompted Edwards to keep his American citizenship a secret at first, claiming he was a Canadian.

"Nobody knew what was happening — not even people at the American Embassy," he said. "It took awhile for us to get some information and for all of it to digest."

Once they arrived at the luxury hotel, the passengers were treated like guests on a holiday.

Edwards said they were free to move around the city.

But they didn't go out for fear they would be arrested because they didn't have Iraqi travel visas, he said.

No one referred to the passengers as hostages, but it was clear they were not free to leave the country, Edwards said. The mood at the hotel grew more tense when Iraqi officials began detaining Kuwaitis there.

Edwards said "Everyone knew they would not let them go," Edwards said. "And we were afraid we would get caught up in the middle of it."

Edwards said he sometimes felt extremely isolated as the only American. At one point, one of the tourists told some of the passengers not to talk to Edwards, warning that his U.S. citizenship might spoil their chances of getting out of the country.

But one passenger had the courage to speak up and remind the others that Edwards was one of them, he said.

Eventually, Edwards and the other tourists were flown to Amman, Jordan, where the Iraqi airline plane was supposed to depart for Vienna. But the connecting flight was cancelled when Switzerland announced it would not allow Iraqi planes to land.

One of the passengers, a German, persuaded Lufthansa Airlines to accept their tickets for a flight to Frankfurt.

While in Jordan, Edwards telephoned his parents, who live in Castleleigh Estates in an unincorporated area of north St. Louis County. Until then, they had thought he was enjoying himself in Switzerland.

"He was very guarded with his words when he called us from Jordan," said his mother, Marie Edwards.

"He said he didn't want to say anything that would be harmful to the others who were still being held over there. He just wanted us to know he was OK," she said.

Edwards' father, Roy Edwards, said the couple's worries over whether their son would get safely out of Jordan kept them from sleeping that night.

"It was a tense time," Roy Edwards said. "No one knew then what side Jordan would be on."

Edwards also was very guarded with the press while in Jordan. He declined an interview with the Columbia Broadcasting System, not wanting to say anything that might jeopardize travelers still caught in the Middle East crisis.

After leaving Jordan, Edwards stayed a few days with the German couple he had met on the plane. He then continued on to Switzerland, via Luxembourg and Paris.

At L'Abri, a Christian school in Switzerland, Edwards said he has had a chance to reflect on what happened.

"I keep praying for all the people still there," Edwards said. "As the situation escalates, I think of all the people I came to know who are still there."

"It's a frightening idea that they might become war casualties. They're not just numbers to me; they're real."

"A situation like this changes your whole life and gives you a new perspective."

Free tax booklets

Publication 1, a free booklet outlining the rights taxpayers have under the law, is now available from the Internal Revenue Service.

Entitled "Your Rights as a Taxpayer," this four-page booklet gives an overview in plain language of the rights and responsibilities all taxpayers have when your return is questioned by the IRS and when you owe money and can't pay. It also describes free IRS tax assistance, as well as a special help for resolving tax problems.

The IRS is enclosing this booklet with all first notices to taxpayers involving a tax matter. But you don't need to wait for an IRS notice to get a copy; call the IRS toll free at 1-800-424-FORM (3676) and ask for Publication 1.

Also available from the same phone number are more detailed booklets explaining the rights and procedures summarized in Publication 1. These include Publications 5 and 56 on audit procedures and appeal rights, Publication 586 on the collection process, and 1383 on the correspondence process.

2 old tanks halt some work on new building

By John Milazzo
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — Work on a section of the site for the new Madison County administration building on North Main Street in Edwardsville has been temporarily halted by the discovery of two fuel storage tanks.

The tanks were unearthed by workmen for Korte-Plocher Construction Co.

Shown by laboratory tests to have contained kerosene, the tanks pose no health threat, according to Paul Hawkins, the county's building, zoning and environmental control administrator.

Hawkins said a licensed hauler was hired to pump about 400 gallons of kerosene out of the tanks and to haul the kerosene away.

Because of rigid state laws dealing with underground storage tanks, Hawkins said, soil tests of both the ground around the tanks and soil removed from the construction site were ordered.

The tests showed no leakage and came back "within state EPA limits," county Director of Administration James K. Monday said Thursday.

Work on the site for the $15.4 million building just north of the county courthouse is continuing except in the northern third of the site, where the tanks were found.

Under state law, the county must apply for a permit from the Illinois fire marshal's office to remove the 4,500-gallon and 1,500-gallon tanks.

Since the tests revealed no leakage, the permit procedure will take 30 days or less, according to Monday. He said application for the license has already been made.

Monday said he is unaware of any records showing what the tanks are doing under what used to be a parking lot adjacent to the old Watering Hole Tavern.

"There has been some conjecture that there may have been a hardware store along that block at some time in the past and that the store used the tanks to sell kerosene."

"But we really have no idea which property they may have been tied to or why they were there," Monday said.

Budget talks threat to economy of area

By Tracy Corrington
States News Service

WASHINGTON—The St. Louis metropolitan area economy, "jostled" by massive job losses and nationwide cuts in federal defense spending, is flat, say local economists.

The employment rate grew by a marginal 1 percent last year, but growth slowed at the largest banks, and real estate values have stalled out.

But rather than seeing those effects in all sectors of the economy, economists predict that St. Louisans will most likely experience "pockets of problems."

"It's tough now to gauge," said Russell Signorino, a research analyst with the Missouri Department of Employment Security, in St. Louis.

If you look at our gross national product, (a recession) hasn't shown up yet. But if you look at specific industries, like the auto and defense industries, you see a lot of problems."

The layoff of 4,500 McDonnell Douglas workers is projected to cost St. Louis city and county about $278 million in lost salaries and state and local revenues, said Jackie Dunn, a spokesman for the Missouri Department of Economic Development.

These workers, whose salaries averaged $38,453, will have a hard time finding comparable pay levels when they rejoin the work force, said Thomas Mandelbaum of the Federal Reserve Bank, Kansas City, Kan., which oversees St. Louis banking needs.

"The laid-off auto workers' financial situation will be mitigated by unemployment benefits from unions," but the buying power of former McDonnell workers will decrease, leading to a drop in retail and other sales, Mandelbaum said.

Mandelbaum also predicted additional layoffs by the Big Three auto producers, Chrysler, Ford and GM, following labor negotiations this fall.

Signorino and Mandelbaum said hospitals, doctors' offices and nursing homes expect to see some laid-off workers move into health-care positions.

St. Louis' sluggish economic situation, although compounded by the recent job losses, reflects cities nationwide.

"One reason the economy has slowed is that consumers have lost confidence in the economy," Signorino said.

"We're (the government) is trying to get the budget under control and get the deficit down. We're talking about having to deal with a $100 billion cleanup cost of the savings and loan crisis, and people don't feel secure."

On Capitol Hill, budget talks to reduce the nation's spiraling $181 billion deficit are still held hostage to partisan politics.

If budget negotiators do not nail down a budget plan by Oct. 15, across-the-board spending cuts will take effect, as mandated by the Graham-Rudman-Hollings law.

Such cuts, totaling $100 billion—$50 billion from defense and $50 billion from nondefense—will have a devastating impact on the economy, predicts the Office of Management and Budget.

Generally, the cuts would hinder the government's ability to do such tasks as maintain a ready defense force, clean up nuclear storage facilities, or staff air traffic control towers.

The good news in St. Louis is that the economy is much more diversified now than it was during the early-'80s recession and will be more flexible if funding sources dwindle. It will also be able to handle the shift in employment from defense and auto to health care and other industries, experts said.

"The health-care industry and service industry in St. Louis have grown," Mandelbaum said. "We have become a national medical center and that pulls people here to work. These jobs are also higher paying," which boosts the area's revenue.

Already, high-tech companies are eyeing the ready work force of laid-off McDonnell Douglas employees as potential employees when they expand into St. Louis, Signorino said. He would not release any names.

Still, jobs will be harder to find if the national economy worsens, he said.

If the national economy is increasing at a steady pace, even if these people lose jobs, they'd be able to find new ones because business was good," Signorino said. "These people are going to have to look very hard to find jobs."

Alfred Fuller

Fuller

Major Alfred Edward Fuller Jr., U.S. Army (retired), 69, of Granite City died at 4:43 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 19, 1990, at Scott Air Force Base Hospital in Belleville. He had been ill since September 1988 and was a patient since July 16.

Born July 17, 1921, in Hudson, Mass., he served in the Army Corps of Engineers for 20 years, retiring in 1962. He then was a teacher in the Granite City school district for 23 years, teaching the sixth grade at Mitchell School, and an instructor in the learning center there, retiring in 1986.

He was a member of the Elks lodge in Hudson and the Retired Officers Association of the Army.

Survivors include his wife, Nona Dell (Hightower) Fuller; one son, Alfred Fuller III of Norfolk, Va.; four daughters, Mrs. Ralph Jean Causey of Virginia Beach, Va., Anne Fuller of St. Louis, Karen Fuller of Seattle and Kathy Fuller of Granite City; one brother, William Fuller of Hudson; one sister, Norma Jacobs of Malvern, Pa.; and five grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his father, Alfred Fuller Sr., and his mother, Edith Helen (Switzer) Fuller.

Mr. Fuller's body was donated to medical research at St. Louis University.

A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road.

In lieu of flowers, a memorial Educational Trust Fund is being set up by the family for the Granite City Unit 9 School District. Irwin Chapel will have further information on this fund. Friends may call 931-3000.

Stansberry

Jack F. Stansberry, 67, of East Alton died in the emergency room of Wood River Township Hospital at 6:50 p.m. Friday, Aug. 17, 1990. He was born July 18, 1923, in Shelbyville, Ill., and was employed as a pharmacist for the yard Drug Store in East Alton and Reese Drug Stores. Mr. Stansberry was a Mason in Wood River Lodge 1062.

Survivors include his wife, Rita (Lancey) Stansberry, whom he married Feb. 12, 1950, in East St. Louis; two daughters, Kathy Ann Pointer of Bethalto and Jamie Michelle Hahn of Edwardsville; two sisters, Mary Kincker and Barbara White, both of Shelbyville; two grandchildren, one step-grandchild and one stepgreat-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Marks Mortuary in Wood River, with the Rev. Dennis Armstrong officiating. Burial was at Woodland Hill Cemetery in East Alton.

The family suggests memorials to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children.

Joan Hillmer

Hillmer

Joan M. (Stanton) Hillmer, 59, of Granite City died at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 19, 1990, at Edwardsville Care Center. She had been ill for the past year.

She was born March 7, 1931, in St. Louis and had lived in Granite City for 57 years. She had been a homemaker and a member of Holy Family Catholic Church. She retired in 1975 after 10 years at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, where she had worked in central supply.

Survivors include a son, Kendall Hillmer Jr., one daughter, Mrs. Richard (Mary Beth) Harper, her mother, Joan Stanton, two brothers, John and Don Stanton, and three grandchildren, all of Granite City.

Preceding her in death was her husband, Kendall Hillmer Sr., who died in 1962.

Visitation was held from 4 to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road, with a prayer service at 6:30 p.m. A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. today (Wednesday) at Holy Family Catholic Church, 2600 Washington Ave., with the Rev. Thomas Wise officiating. Burial will be at National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

The family suggests memorials of Masses or gifts to Hospice of Madison County, Granite City.

Germany

Another change is that his pension is paid to him in Deutschmarks instead of the near-worthless East German Ostmarks, which were abolished.

Christa, 54, still works — as a machine operator at a company that makes fancy ballpoint pens for export. She makes about 740 marks a month. At current exchange rates, that's about $465.

Oehlmann said industry was horribly inefficient under Russian rule. The company he worked for was run by the Russians. Of 335 people under his supervision, he said at least 70 were non-productive bureaucrats. "Pencil-pushers," he called them.

Wernigerode, always a popular tourist town because of the 900-year-old castle nearby, is experiencing a boom now that the border has been opened, the Oehlmanns said.

When they were in Wernigerode in May, the Caughrons took a Polaroid Instamatic camera with them. They were besieged by East Germans who were amazed at instant color photographs and wanted their pictures taken.

But the real changes in East Germany are not those of commerce, of currency and of consumer choices.

They are changes made possible by new freedoms: freedom to vote, freedom to travel. Freedom to visit long-lost loved ones. Gitta Caughron, who married her husband in Germany in 1958 while he was stationed there and came here to start a new life, has said she was thinking about writing a letter to Mikhail Gorbachev to thank him.

Robert F. Thebeau, 49, of Granite City died at 8:54 p.m. Monday, Aug. 20, 1990, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he had been a patient for 4½ months. He had been ill for several years.

Mr. Thebeau was born Aug. 8, 1941, in Granite City and was a lifelong resident. He had been employed by St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was of the Baptist faith and a member of Moose Lodge 272 in Granite City.

Survivors include his wife, Maxine (Carr) Thebeau, whom he married July 3, 1958; two sons, Robert A. Thebeau of San Diego and Jason J. Thebeau of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Larry (Victoria) Kampmann of Bend, St. Louis and Mike Thebeau of Belleville; and six grandchildren. Arrangements are pending at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., 876-4321.

Applications available to children's agencies

Children's agencies have until Oct. 9 to submit applications for funds that will be raised during the Suburban Journals' 1990 Old Newsboys Day benefit event this fall in Illinois and Missouri communities, including the Quad City area.

Forms are available to bi-state metropolitan area agencies

by writing: Old-Newsboys Day, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

The 34th annual Old Newsboys Day will be held Thursday, Nov. 15, when thousands of volunteers will be selling special editions of the Journal to raise money for children's groups.

Since its creation in 1957, Old $4,472,523, including $242,445 in Newsboys Day has raised 1989.

STUDENTS NEED HOME IN OUR COMMUNITY

Pablo Rubin Orozco from Spain and Gunnar Lahmann from West Germany are anxiously awaiting news that there is a family in the Granite City area who will help fulfill their dreams of spending a year in America. Pablo enjoys basketball, football, tennis, swimming and running. Gunnar enjoys reading, photography, playing squash and getting together with friends. Pablo and Gunnar are hoping to pursue some of these interests during their exchange year and also look forward to developing new "American" interests and hobbies that they can share with their friends when they return to their home countries.

Each year, ASSE International Student Exchange programs provide qualified European students with the opportunity to spend an Academic year in America attending a local high school and learning about life in America. If your family would like to help make Pablo or Gunnar's year in the Granite City area possible, please call local Area Representative Barb or Wayne Reuter at 618/876-0138 or ASSE's toll free number at 1-800-333-3802.

ASSE, a non-profit organization, is dedicated to fostering international relationships between countries through cultural exchange.

Showtime auditions

Showtime Express, Granite City's newest theater company, will be holding auditions for the last show of its inaugural season, "A... My Name is Alice," at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 27, at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave.

"A... My Name is Alice" is a lively entertainment created in review style by a variety of comedy writers, lyricists and composers and spotlighting contemporary women.

Sophisticated, bawdy, funny and insightful, the numbers dramatize women as friends, rivals, sisters and even as members of the women's Detroit Persons basketball team.

Included is "Emily," an MBA, whose raised consciousness crumbles as she engineers the corporate takeover of Womantronics Inc.

A blues singer is a parody of modern sexual therapy and her character explains erotic content of blues lyrics.

A ballad, "Friends," recounts the friendship that sustains two women from grade school to old age. "Sisters" provides a similar account of a lifelong sibling rivalry.

From a kindergarten teacher's encounter with a career mother to patrons at a ladies-only beefcake show, from a construction worker whose wolf-whistle brings more than he bargained for, to a lonely receptionist chasing fantasies from women's pulp fiction, "A... My Name is Alice" won't the outer critics' circle award for best musical during a long off-Broadway run.

Five to seven women are needed. All must be singers, and several must also be dancers.

Auditions will consist of cold readings and a series of choreographed dance combinations.

Applicants are to have a prepared song ready to sing; an accompanist will be provided. Additional information may be obtained by calling 451-2529.

Junior high football set to start Aug. 28

Junior high football practice in Granite City will begin the first day of school (Aug. 28). Athletes will pick up equipment and parent permission forms on that date.

Parents are reminded that this year seventh graders can participate and that everyone must have a recent physical exam in order to play football. All athletes should bring proof of their physicals to practice on the first day.

MCGSA registration held on Saturdays

The Madison County Girls Soccer Association will have a registration at the Brown Recreation Center on Aug. 25 and Sept. 1.

Registration on both days will be from 1-3 p.m. at the center, 2185 Amos Ave. Girls born from 1977 to 1985 who are not already on a team and wish to play soccer this fall will be registered. No money is needed to register.

The fall season will be 12 games beginning Sept. 8. For more information, call Brian Gore at 831-6832 or Jack McKeehan at 877-3910.

Ducks Unlimited banquet Aug. 25

The Granite City Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its annual fund raising banquet on Aug. 25 at St. Gregory Hall, 10 Colonial Drive.

Registration is at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m. and the wildlife art auction at 8 p.m. Tickets are $40 per couple and $30 per single. For ticket information, call 877-2434 or 878-8326. All donations are tax deductible.

QCSA begins Sept. 8

The Quad-Cities Soccer Association fall season begins Sept. 8. Space is available for boys and girls born anywhere from 1980 to 1985. For more information, call 676-9000.

Hoffman in the opener. Hoffman went 3 for 4, crunched two home runs and drove in four runs in that game. Mark Porche also went 3 for 4 in the opener.

The Lakers built a 6-0 lead by the middle of the fourth inning. The Buds then mounted a four-run rally with Mike Roy's three-run homer to center the key blow, but could get no closer. Valmeier pushed across single runs in the fifth and sixth to make it 8-4 and close out the scoring.

Warren Fehrenz started and took the loss for the Buds. The Buds suffered a tough blow early on when center fielder Jim Wahl pulled a hamstring muscle while running the bases in front of a double by John Wahl in the first inning. The lead runner, who had been on first after a walk, might have scored on the play had the injury not occurred.

today. I made some bad plays, but I wasn't thinking about one when I made the next."

It was still 3-3 in the 10th until Robertson's hit broke the tie. But Hansel singled and Blumner would have been out at the plate on Rich Takmajian's perfect throw, but the slide knocked the ball loose from Robertson's mitt and Blumner ended up at third. Ogden's sacrifice fly ended the game.

"I guess the law of averages caught up with us against these guys," said DePew. "I feel bad-

But more importantly, it took one of the Buds' top offensive weapons out of the double-header. The extent of Wahl's injury was not known at press time.

Pieper and Waterloo manager Vern Moehrs have seen their teams move in opposite directions over the last month.

"Overall, we've been playing great ball since July 4," Pieper said. "We've had great pitching and have had hitting up and down the lineup. If you get that, you're going to win some games."

The Buds, who carried the best record in the league for much of the season, lost four of their last six games as the Lakers made up three games in the last six games.

"We haven't been playing well for two or three weeks in a row," Moehrs said. "We've been using bad judgment. We didn't play very well today. We didn't get any pitching."

ly that I didn't make the plays, I couldn't wait for Mike to do it all for us. I thought we might have a full after those great games we played with Waterloo last week, and we did."

The Miners had only 11 players in uniform, with Rich Wilson and Kory Burton leaving for college and Jamie Hogan again a no-show.

"I don't know what to say about Jamie," said DePew. "I hope the other guys can make it back on the weekends for the playoffs, but you can't expect them to. You just hope the other guys can do the job. We can't go in with a complacent attitude or we won't last long."

•Chomko

The AISA isn't quite on the level with the Major Soccer League (formerly the Major Indoor Soccer League), but Chomko is looking on with one of the better franchises.

"The Wave draws 8,000 or 9,000 fans a game," he said. "We've got a new facility (the Bradley Center, where the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA also play) and the indoor game has really caught on. I'm excited."

Chomko said the Wave, coached by Johan Arnejo of South America, will help him pay for school and rent this season. He is six classes shy of getting a degree in management information at Parkside. In four years with the UWP Rangers as a midfielder, Chomko set a school record for assists (50) and was an NAIA All-American last season.

"I really didn't think I would get drafted as high as I did," he said. "But I enjoy the indoor game. I guess I've been playing it ever since Soccer For Fun (in Pontoon Beach) opened. I would probably choose the outdoor game over indoors, but this will be fun. And we might get to play outdoors with the Wave. There's talk about the league expanding and there being an outdoor season."

For now, training camp opens on Oct. 1 and the season will begin Nov. 9. There are 12 teams in the AISA, mostly in the Midwest. The indoor season last six months, with at least a 60-game schedule.

"I think the farthest team is in Atlanta," said Chomko. "This is a good franchise. It's been around at least since Tony Pierce played here."

Pierce was an outstanding goalie at GCIS in the 1970s. Chomko is the son of Jim and Marsha Chomko of Granite City. He will continue to help coach the UWP team this year. The head coach there is Rick Klips. Chomko's brother, Carl, as well as Chris Ryan and Derrick Wilkinson of Granite City are also playing at Parkside.

either East Alton or Millstadt on Thursday, with a site to be determined.

"My feeling is the Night League is a little more flexible," said Patton. "They might be able to bring another pitcher in for that if they need to."

"In a way it's good," DePew said of the extra game — or possibly two — on Wednesday. "It will give us an extra night to hit and we haven't been swinging the bats real good lately. But I don't know who will pitch. I might pitch some, Robby (Mike Robertson) might pitch some, or Vern (Lux). I want to save John Moad for the weekend if I need him."

Mon-Clair League divisional playoffs are single elimination nine-inning games. The winner of the Mon-Clair Division playoffs is to face the winner of the St. Clair Division playoffs in a best-of-three series starting Sept. 2.

The Miners are the top seed in the four-team Metro East Night League playoffs with an 11-3 league mark. East Alton and Millstadt finished tied for fourth and were to play Tuesday to decide the final playoff berth. Trenton and Sauget both finished 10-4 in the Night League and were to play one semifinal game Wednesday.

Neither Granite City or Millstadt have a place to play night games, so the site of that game is up in the air.

"I wouldn't want to play at East Alton's field if we're the No. 1 seed," said Moad. "I'd like to play at Sauget if we could."

Brandi Woods recruited to Army

Brandi L. Woods of Madison has joined the U.S. Army according to her recruiter, Staff Sgt. Wayne Gully of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, 3675 Nameoki Road. Woods has received the Army's written guarantee that she will receive training in the job specialty of her choice — administration specialist.

A 1989 graduate of Madison High School, Woods will take basic and advanced individual training at Fort Jackson, S.C., where she reported for duty Aug. 10.

Brian Papa reports for station duty

Navy Airman Apprentice Brian J. Papa, son of William C. and Patsy A. Papa of Madison, recently reported for duty with Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron-14, Naval Air Station Miramar, San Diego.

Papa is a 1983 graduate of Madison Senior High School.

Pamela Davis to report on Nov. 20

Pamela R. Davis of Lovejoy has joined the U.S. Army.

According to her recruiter, Sgt. Garrett Fuller of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station, 3675 Nameoki Road, Davis has received the Army's written guarantee that she will receive training in the job specialty of her choice — traffic management coordinator.

Davis, who is a 1990 graduate of Lovejoy High School, will take basic and advanced individual training at Fort Jackson, S.C., reporting for duty Nov. 20.

David Knepper in California

Army Spec. David J. Knepper has arrived for duty at Fort Irwin, Calif.

Knepper is a tank turret mechanic with the 63rd Armor Battalion.

He is the son of Sandra J. Fisher and brother of Kelly J. Moussette, both of Granite City.

McLaren promoted to new rank

George McLaren, the son of Mr. and Mrs. K.A. Rooney of Granite City, was promoted to the rank of corporal.

McLaren is stationed at Marine Barracks in Washington, D.C.

Sailor of quarter Granite City man

GSM1 David A. Clark, a first class petty officer gas turbine system mechanic, was recently selected as the Sailor of the Quarter at Naval Air Station Memphis.

Clark, a native of Granite City, is the son of Gloria Clark of Granite City. He has been at NAS Memphis for more than a year and is the assistant manager of the craft and hobby shop on the base. In this position he instructs in the wood shop and oversees the photo lab, ceramic shop and computer room.

A seven-year veteran of naval service, Clark, 30, is single and plans on making the Navy a career.

The sailor of the quarter is selected to recognize those outstanding naval personnel whose professional performance on the job and accomplishments in the civilian community reflect on themselves, their present command, and the Navy.

Nurse Corps gets new program head

Air Force Lt. Col. Barry L. Slaughenaupt, commander of the 3545th United States Air Force Recruiting Squadron, St. Louis, recently announced the assignment of Maj. Diann K.S. Root, as the Air Force Nurse Corps program manager for this area.

Root is responsible for all nurse program recruiting, and graduate nursing scholarships. She also has information on other health professions officer commission in programs such as the Medical Corps, Dental Corps and other health professional programs. Prior to her assignment as nurse program manager, Root was assigned to the USAF Regional Medical Center at Scott Air Force Base, as charge nurse of Medical Oncology Unit.

Root's office is located at 1065 Executive Parkway, Suite 210, Creve Coeur, Mo., (314) 454-9535.

Petty officer moves up

Storekeeper Seaman Beth Anne Kirkover Noll was advanced to the rank of storekeeper petty officer third class on Jan. 16, after completing a military requirements course for this class, personnel advancement requirements, and the storekeeper third class exam in the top 15 percent of all personnel taking the exam.

She is a former resident of the Granite City area. Noll is stationed at Trident Refit Facility in Kings Bay, Ga., and works in supply as a boat monitor and expeditor for submarines from other commands. She is presently working on her controlled material handler qualification and is active with the Camden County Special Olympics sponsored at the Kings Bay Naval Base.

Noll had spent three years in the United States Naval Reserves at the St. Louis Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Center.

She was with the Naval Supply Depot Guam 119 Unit where for two weeks a year she would travel to Guam and help support the mother command.

She is married to machinery repairman Petty Officer Second Class Philip Jay Noll, who is also stationed at Trident Refit Facility.

U.S. Air Force seeks physicians

The Air Force is increasing physician pay in an effort to recruit and retain qualified Air Force physicians.

"With recent Congressional-approved increases in special pay, most active duty Air Force physicians will receive an increase of approximately $8,000 per year," said Colonel William E. Patterson, director of Health Professions at Headquarters United States Air Force Recruiting Service at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas.

"A $7,000 to $20,000 annual increase is possible for specialty-based physicians signing multi-year retention contracts. Depending on one's experience and specialty training, these new pay increases allow pay ranging from $62,000 to $110,000 per year," he said.

For more information about Air Force health professions, contact Technical Sgt. Don Weiss at 618-624-4321 or 4 Executive Drive Suite 1, in Fairview Heights.

Cadet Davis receives several honors

Cadet Colonel D. Chad Davis, son of Kenneth R. and Elizabeth Davis of Granite City, received several honors at the annual Southern Illinois University at Carbondale's Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) wing awards ceremony.

Davis, recently promoted to Cadet Colonel and Corp commander for the Fall 1990 semester at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, will receive advanced training at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., this summer. He was also selected to serve as an instructor of Cadets in Field Training at McConnell AFB, Kan., for a seven-week course this summer.

Additional awards received by Chad at the recent ceremonies were Distinguished Cadet Colonel Charles W. Getchell Memorial Scholarship, for outstanding performance as a military pilot candidate (only five awarded nationally), $2,000 Arnold Air Society Honors Award, SIUC College of Technical Careers AFROTC Dean's Award, Reserve Officers Association Award, Military Order of the World Wars Medal, SIUC Board of Trustees Award, Air Force Association Award (recognition for outstanding achievement, leadership and academic standing).

Davis, a senior with an overall GPA of 3.5/4.0, will complete his final year of Professional Officer's course during the 1990/91 school year. He will then enter the USAF as an officer slated for flight training.

Chad is a 1987 graduate of Granite City High School.

Operating room nurses sought

The U.S. Air Force recently announced that they are seeking qualified operating room nurses to fill a limited number of positions at Wilford-Hall Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas.

Wilford-Hall is the Air Force's largest medical facility with more than 1,000 beds and serves more than a million patients annually. Additionally, there are currently more than 200 medical clinical investigation projects in progress coordinated by the medical center's Clinical Investigations Facility.

To qualify, registered nurses must have a minimum of a baccalaureate degree in health related field, six months of operating room experience in the past 24 months, and be a U.S. citizen.

For more information about Air Force health professions, contact Maj. Lanette Watson at (314) 434-9555, or visit her at 1605 Executive Parkway in Greve Court, Mo.

Air Force offers ROTC scholarships

The U.S. Air Force is seeking qualified applicants for college scholarships with the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) program.

The scholarships are available to college-bound students and cover up to four years of undergraduate studies, including tuition, books, selected fees and a monthly stipend. Following graduation, scholarship recipients are commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force.

Applications are currently being accepted from 4991 high school graduates, who will begin college in the fall of 1991. Interested students should be ranked in the top 25 percent of their graduating class.

For more information about Air Force ROTC scholarships, contact Tech. Sgt. Steven Hale at 465-1219, or visit him at 1631 Washington, Alton.

Lunch Bunch Can Eat Well

By Janice Denham
Journal Food Editor

Healthy lunches are being served. Served in a restaurant or at home, packed in a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles' lunch box or a leather briefcase, planned for eating on the run or at a standstill, lunch is often prepared with thought of healthy food that nourishes by filling the body up instead of out.

The goal of this year's American Heart Association Food Festival is to give some digestible ideas on how to keep a low-fat eating profile at the lunch hour as part of a sensible food pattern throughout the day. The St. Louis Chapter of the American Heart Association is sponsoring—with Suburban Journals—the annual Quick and Easy Recipe Contest for the public.

Recipe contest winners will be announced the week of the Food Festival. Prizes will be given by Olive Gardens Italian Restaurants, Dierbergs Markets Inc., National Super Markets and Schnuck Markets Inc. The restaurants will offer heart-healthy dishes on its menu, while the supermarkets will offer tastings of good-for-you foods in their stores.

Cheryl Houston, a member of this year's food festival committee, says the St. Louis chapter chose the lunch menu this year as an area of emphasis because it often fails as a time for thoughtful choices by those who try to eat their health in mind.

"For adults, if they are working at a job, they might be surrounded by fast-food restaurants. They may not have time to rationally choose something nutritious, so they just grab something quick," she says. "The nice part of brown-bagging, instead of giving in to unhealthy foods, is there are all kinds of good foods that can be taken." The workshops for school cafeteria workers show them how to offer their young patrons food they will like that is good for them to eat. The children's school contests promote heart-healthy ideas that they can share with lunch-toting parents.

Houston sees the concept of healthy eating as not just a responsibility, but a right for youngsters who will be expected to do it later in life.

Mail with recipe by August 31 to:
Healthy Heart Food Festival Contest
Suburban Journals
1215 Fern Ridge Parkway, Suite 108
St. Louis, Mo. 63141

Prizes will be furnished by St. Louis Heart Association, Olive Garden Restaurants, Dierbergs Markets Inc., National Super Markets and Schnuck Markets Inc.

The Quick and Easy Recipe Contest has four categories for the public—heart-healthy appetizer, main dish, side dish (soup, salad, vegetable or bread) or special occasion dessert. The fifth category—for a school lunch recipe or idea that will provide up to 12 servings—is open to full-time or part-time employees of school cafeterias; include your position and school when entering. One recipe per category per household may be submitted. Extra entry blanks are available at Olive Garden restaurants.

Extra credit will be given to entries that explain how the recipe is heart-healthy and include an old recipe on which the more healthful entry is based. Contestants in the first four categories should not have professional nutrition backgrounds.

All entries, which should be postmarked by Aug. 31, can be sent to: Quick and Easy Recipe Contest, Suburban Journals, 1215 Fern Ridge Parkway, Suite 108, St. Louis, Mo. 63141. Include your name, address, phone number and the category entered. Recipes should reflect the philosophy that foods should be low in fat, cholesterol and salt, and all ingredients should be available at local markets. Little, if any, fat should be used. Grains, pasta, fruit and vegetables should predominate. Keeping with the emphasis of the food festival, they should be quick to fix so they fit into a busy lifestyle.

CHILL OUT Try Fruit For A Cool Treat

By Janice Denham
Journal Food Editor

Say "Ah" with a pleasurable, hearty, healthy outlook when it comes to fresh fruit. There is more to fruit than its taste. Chilling it brings out many of the attributes that make it "ance and feel" once you bite into it are part of its personality. Peach peels are fuzzy, while apples feel smooth. The aroma of an orange or freshly cut cantaloupe elicits a familiar image of a breakfast fruit. Grapes have a playful image, ready to be popped into the mouth one at a time for a juicy explosion.

As plentiful as summer fun, fruit adds color to all meals and all occasions any time of day. Nutritious down to its last juicy drop or country across the ocean, making it one cosmopolitan traveler that enjoys coming home—to anyone's home.

Here are some fun-loving summer fruit ideas.

Summer Fruit Salad

- 2 tsp. lime juice
- 1 tbs. honey
- 1 Asian pear, cut in bite-size cubes
- 1 granny smith apple, cut in bite-size cubes
- 1 red apple, cut in bite-size cubes
- 1 cup cubed cantaloupe
- 2 kiwifruit, peeled, cut in half, then sliced
- 1 tbs. chopped fresh mint
- 1 tbs. raspberries

Combine lime juice and honey in medium size bowl. Toss with Asian pear, apples, cantaloupe and kiwifruit. Toss with mint. Chill, covered, until ready to serve. Just before serving, gently toss in raspberries.

Plum-Berry Cooler

- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup plain yogurt
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 4 fresh plums, sliced
- 2 cups fresh or frozen unsweetened strawberries

Blend milk, yogurt and sugar in blender until smooth. Add plums and strawberries. Blend until smooth. Pour mixture into glasses. Drink immediately or freeze about 2 hours until slushy.

Makes 4 servings.

Apples With Smoky Spread

- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup grated smoked gouda cheese
- 2 tbs. chopped green onion
- 2 tsp. molasses
- 1/4 cup chopped toasted almonds
- 2 firm apples, cut in thin wedges

In food processor, blend cream cheese, gouda cheese, onion and wine until well blended. Add molasses. Process just until combined. Spoon cheese mixture into serving bowl.

Spread apples with cheese mixture before serving.

Makes 6 servings. 1 1/2 cups spread.

Tropical Shrimp Salad

- 2 granny smith apples, sliced
- 2 kiwifruit, sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 2 cups cold, cooked rice
- 1 lb. cooked shrimp, peeled, chilled
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced red bell pepper
- 1/4 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup vinaigrette salad dressing
- 1 tsp. soy sauce

Arrange apple, kiwifruit, rice, shrimp, bell pepper and celery on serving platter. Mix dressing with soy sauce. Drizzle over salad to serve.

Makes 4 servings.

Live again those glorious days when gelatin jiggled on table

After a decade-long fall from grace, the humble meatloaf, a comforting mashed potato, and—yes—the maligned gelatin dish that serves as salad or dessert are being devoured with no apologies.

These unpretentious foods have been improved with a measure of innovation, upgraded ingredients and a helping of current cooking techniques.

Many people recall mom's gelatin salads and desserts spiked with mandarin oranges, sour cream, minmarshmallows, cream cheese and nuts. Another fond memory is the fancy broken glass torte in which cubes of three colors of flavored gelatin in a whipping cream and gelatin base gave desert an opulent stained glass effect.

Here are updates for the 1990s. Nutritional analyses are given. Calories and fat can be reduced by using flavored gelatin and dairy ingredients that are lighter in composition.

Chunky cherry medley

- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) cherry gelatin
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen sliced strawberries in syrup
- 1 1/2 cups cold water
- 1/2 cup (6 oz.) cream cheese
- 1 cup finely ground walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in frozen strawberries until thawed. Stir in cold water. Refrigerate until very thick.

Form cream cheese into 36 balls 1/2-inch in diameter. Roll in ground walnuts.

Fold cream cheese balls into thickened gelatin. Pour into 6-cup mold. Refrigerate several hours or overnight.

To serve, dip in warm water. Unmold on serving plate.

Makes 6 servings; 334 calories, 2 gm. protein, 15 gm. fat and 40 gm. carbohydrate each.

Fruit fantasy

- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) lemon gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 can (1 lb.) sliced peaches
- 1 can (8 oz.) pineapple tidbits
- 1 cup lemon-lime soda
- 1 cup minmarshmallows

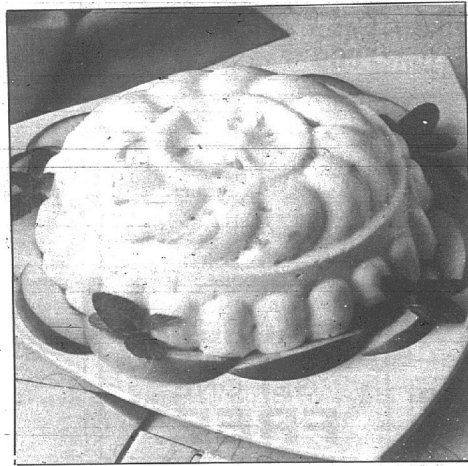

Beat cream cheese and sour cream until smooth and fluffy.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cheese mixture until well blended. Drain peaches and pineapple, reserving juice to make total of 1 1/2 cups. Reserve a few peach slices for garnish, if desired.

Stir juice and soda into gelatin mixture. Refrigerate until very thick.

Cut peaches in bite-size pieces. Fold fruit and marshmallows into thickened gelatin mixture. Pour into 7-cup mold. Refrigerate several hours or overnight.

To serve, dip in warm water. Unmold on serving plate. Garnish with mint and reserved peach slices.

A TRENDY EATER enjoys dinner shimmering the way it used to with creamy and elegant salads and desserts made with gelatin.

Fresh mint, if desired

Beat cream cheese and sour cream until smooth and fluffy.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cheese mixture until well blended. Drain peaches and pineapple, reserving juice to make total of 1 1/2 cups. Reserve a few peach slices for garnish, if desired.

Stir juice and soda into gelatin mixture. Refrigerate until very thick.

Cut peaches in bite-size pieces. Fold fruit and marshmallows into thickened gelatin mixture. Pour into 7-cup mold. Refrigerate several hours or overnight.

To serve, dip in warm water. Unmold on serving plate. Garnish with mint and reserved peach slices.

Makes 12 servings; 179 calories, 3 gm. protein, 5 gm. fat, 25 gm. carbohydrate each.

Mixed berry cloud

- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) triple berry gelatin
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 qt. raspberry frozen yogurt, softened
- Vanilla yogurt
- Fresh berries

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add frozen yogurt and spoonfuls, stirring until yogurt is completely dissolved. Refrigerate 2 to 3 hours until firm.

Spoon into decorative glasses. Top with dollop of vanilla yogurt and fresh berries.

Makes 8 servings; 222 calories, 6 gm. protein, 5 gm. fat, 40 gm. carbohydrate each.

Summer vegetables stand up to microwave for fresh salad

There is good news. Studies have shown that more people prefer vegetables that have been microwaved than those cooked conventionally, because they taste fresher. There is better news. That fresher taste translates into more nutrition—when prepared in a microwave oven.

This is the perfect time to give vegetables a whirl on that carousel—if there already is one there—in a microwave. Because all garden-fresh vegetables taste even more enticing prepared this way. The question most often asked about cooking vegetables is how long it takes.

The time depends on several factors:

•How much or how many. The more there is, the longer it takes.

•How big or how little. The larger the pieces, the longer it takes.

•How thick or how thin. Denser items take longer.

•How much water is added. Vegetables need little or no liquid added, but if it is added for softness, it will take more time to cook the vegetable.

•How it is arranged. The doughnut shape arrangement is the quickest and most efficient, whereas upward stacking is least efficient.

•How it is covered. Plastic wrap works well with vegetables, but it also traps steam. Vegetables may be cooked in their own skin, being careful to piece the skin several times to vent steam and avoid exploding the vegetables. If the skin is more like a rind, cut the vegetable in half and cover the cut halves with plastic wrap.

•How well cooked a family likes its food. No matter how fresh tasting or nutritious a vegetable is, a family will not eat it if it is done unacceptably.

The more done or softer or sogger they are preferred, the longer it takes.

Fiber, a buzzword for the 1990s, is abundant in both soluble and insoluble form. More fiber is available when vegetables are eaten with skin or peel on. Chop, rather than throw away the stringy part of vegetables, like in celery, because it contains lots of fiber.

Here are vegetable salad recipes perfect for summer microwaving. Vegetables are easy for beginners and advanced students of the microwave, even because they usually can be cooked on high power.

utes. Add flour, sugar, salt, celery seed and pepper, stirring to blend. Add water and vinegar. Cook on high power 2 to 3 minutes.

Remove eyes and bad spots from potatoes. Peel, if desired. Slice. Add potatoes to sauce. Cook 2 to 5 minutes until hot. Crumble bacon and sprinkle on top. Stir.

Serve hot or cold.

Makes 6 to 12 servings.

Wilted Spinach Salad

- 6 slices bacon
- 1 lb. mushrooms, sliced
- 1 lb. spinach, well washed
- 1 avocado, chopped (optional)
- 1 or 2 tomatoes, chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion or scallion
- 2 tbs. oil
- 4 tbs. lemon juice
- 2 tbs. wine vinegar

Arrange bacon on meat rack. Microwave, covered with paper towel, on high power 6 minutes until bacon is crisp. Crumble and set aside. Reserve bacon drippings.

In large bowl, combine mushrooms, spinach, avocado and tomato. Add crumbled bacon.

Place bacon drippings and onion in large measuring cup. Microwave 1 to 1 1/2 minutes until onion is soft. Add oil, lemon juice and vinegar. Microwave 30 to 60 seconds.

Pour dressing over spinach mixture. Salt and pepper to taste. Toss and serve immediately.

Makes 6 to 12 servings.

Canners in a pickle can get answers at seminar

Souland Farmers Market not only holds the key to buying fresh produce and related products, but it also will open its doors to provide an opportunity to learn how to preserve those summer tastes at canning seminars on Saturdays, Aug. 25 and Sept. 15. The free workshops will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Pavilion at the market.

Seventh and Carroll Streets.

Saturday's subject will be bread and butter pickles. Cynthia Fauser and Lois Laster, nutrition specialists with the University of Missouri Extension service, and several urban gardening specialists have planned the demonstration of canning techniques.

The event Sept. 15 will highlight apple butter. Not only will the food experts show how to preserve the sweet spread, but it will be cooked the old-time way as part of the market's Harvest Days celebration.

A variety of prizes—including a pressure cooker, canning pots and jars and cookbooks on preserving foods—will be offered to those attending either workshop.

Recipes

Grilled Chef's Prime

2 to 4 lb. boneless pork rib end roast
 1 cup chili sauce
 1 cup cider vinegar
 1 tsp. dry mustard

Prepare medium-hot coals in covered grill, banking coals on side of grill. Place drip pan in center of grill bed.

Mix together chili sauce, cider vinegar and dry mustard.

Place pork on grill over drip pan. Close grill. Roast pork 45 minutes to 1 1/2 hours, basting every 10 to 15 minutes with basting sauce. Remove pork from grill when internal temperature reaches 155° to 160°.

Makes 3 to 4 servings per pound, 212 calories per 3-ounce serving.

Creamy Peach Milk Shake

1 cup chopped fresh peaches
 1 cup vanilla ice milk
 1 cup milk
 4 ice cubes, crushed

Combine peaches, ice milk, milk and ice in blender. Whirl until smooth.

Serve immediately.

Makes 4 servings.

Blueberry Cream Pie

1 cup plus 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tsp. cornstarch
 1/2 cup water
 1 pt. blueberries
 1 prepared deep dish pie crust, baked
 2 eggs
 1 cup milk
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1 tsp. cinnamon
 1 tsp. almond extract
 1 cup frozen whipped topping, thawed

In medium saucepan, combine 1/2 cup sugar, cornstarch, water and blueberries. Stir over medium heat until mixture starts to thicken. Cool.

In small bowl, beat eggs and milk until blended.

In medium saucepan, mix gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar, cinnamon and egg mixture. Let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat about 5 minutes until gelatin is completely dissolved. Stir in almond extract.

Four into prepared crust. Chill 30 minutes. Top with blueberry mixture. Chill about 4 hours or until firm.

Makes 8 servings.

Picnic Chicken Dijon

1 cup Dijon mustard
 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
 1 tsp. salt
 1 pinch pepper
 1 pinch garlic powder
 1 (3 lb.) chicken, cut up
 1 cup Italian seasoned bread crumbs
 2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Combine mustard, sour cream, salt, pepper and garlic powder in small bowl.

Remove skin from chicken. Spread chicken with sour cream mixture. Roll in bread crumbs until evenly coated.

Melt butter in shallow pan large enough to hold chicken so pieces do not touch. Arrange chicken, meaty-side down, in pan. Bake at 400° for 30 minutes. Turn chicken. Bake 20 to 30 minutes longer until tender and brown. Chill.

Makes 4 servings.

Quick Italian Cheese Sandwiches

1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen Italian vegetables
 1 container (15 oz.) low-fat ricotta cheese
 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded provolone cheese
 1 cup grated romano cheese
 5 English muffins, split, toasted

Cook vegetables according to package directions. Do not drain. Combine cooked vegetables, ricotta, provolone and romano cheeses. Mix well.

Spread 1/4 cup vegetable-cheese mixture on each muffin half. Bake on cookie sheet 12 to 15 minutes at 350° until topping is hot.

Serve immediately.

Makes 5 servings. 127 calories, 25 gm. protein, 17 gm. fat, 43 gm. carbohydrate each.

Barbecue exhibits new interest with barley salad on side

When the dinner crowd is bored with potato salad, tired of coleslaw and has seen all the macaroni salad it cares to for the season, toss together a colorful barley salad to share the plate with a burger or other favorite grilled fare.

Barley salad has more going for it than a pretty plate. It is wholesome, easy to make and transport, and substantial.

Only one serving of cooked barley provides 5 grams dietary fiber with minimal fat and no sodium. The same amount of pasta contains one-fifth the amount of fiber and many contain considerably more sodium.

Barley salad can adapt to any schedule. Those who like to do things ahead can keep cooked barley on hand in a refrigerator or freezer. It keeps up to a week.

stored in a covered container in the refrigerator.

To freeze, spoon 2-cup portions into freezer bags. Thaw it overnight in the refrigerator or microwave an unopened freezer bag at high power 2 to 2½ minutes until barley thaws.

Quick-cooking barley, ready in 10 to 12 minutes, is the answer to salad that is needed on the spur of the moment. Add fresh herbs, crisp vegetables and a reduced-calorie salad dressing. Chill while hamburgers brown on the grill.

Cooked barley — regular or quick-cooking — gives Triple-B Salad a head start. Fiesta Barley Salad, with sassy flavor and mild heat, is a flavor partner for grilled chicken or seafood.

Triple-B salad

2 cups cooked barley
1 cup cooked green beans, drained
1 can (15½ oz.) dark red kidney beans, drained, rinsed
½ cup diced celery
½ cup finely chopped green onion
½ cup rice or white wine vinegar
1½ tsp. sesame or vegetable oil
1 tsp. sugar
½ tsp. celery seed

Combine barley, green beans, kidney beans, celery and onion.

Combine vinegar, oil, sugar and celery seed. Add to barley mixture. Cover. Chill.

Serve as side dish with lean beef or poultry.

Makes six (¾-cup) servings; 150 calories, 4 gm. protein, 25 gm. carbohydrate, 4 gm. fat, no cholesterol, 170 mg. sodium and 5 gm. dietary fiber each.

Fiesta barley salad

2 cups cooked barley
1 medium tomato, diced
1 cup cooked corn, drained
1 tbsp. chopped green onion
1 tsp. minced fresh cilantro or parsley
1 tsp. chopped jalapeno pepper, if desired
3 tbsp. apple cider vinegar
1½ tbsp. oil
½ tsp. chili powder
½ tsp. cumin

Combine barley, tomato, corn, onion, cilantro and jalapeno.

Combine vinegar, oil, chili powder and cumin. Mix thoroughly with barley mixture. Chill.

Serve with grilled seafood or poultry.

Makes 6 servings; 120 calories, 3 gm. protein, 19 gm. carbohydrate, 4 gm. fat, no cholesterol, 5 mg. sodium and 3 gm. dietary fiber each.

TOSS TOGETHER Triple-B Salad, with a sweet-sour celery seed dressing, as a side dish with hamburgers from the grill.

Grilled Lemon Chicken

- 1 (1 lb.) chicken, quartered
 1 cup butter or margarine
 1 cup lemon juice
 1 tsp. water
 1 tsp. soy sauce
 1 tsp. paprika
 1 tsp. honey
 1 tsp. Dijon mustard
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 tsp. salt
 Pinch cayenne pepper

In small saucepan, combine butter, lemon juice, water, soy sauce, paprika, honey, mustard, garlic, salt and cayenne pepper. Heat until butter melts, stirring well. Grill chicken over medium coals about 15 minutes per side or until chicken is done, brushing frequently with sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Microwave Nectarine Bake

- 1 fresh nectarine
 1 cup packed brown sugar
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1 cup uncooked oats
 1 cup grated coconut or chopped nuts
 2 tsp. margarine
 1 tsp. water or apple juice

Cut nectarines in half and remove pit. Put in 1 1/2-quart microwave-safe dish. Sprinkle with brown sugar, lemon juice, oats and coconut. Cut margarine in little pieces. Place margarine and water on top. Microwave on high 4 minutes until nectarines are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Bicycle Bars

- 1 cup margarine or butter
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) regular marshmallows (about 40) or 4 cups mini-marshmallows
 1 cup peanut butter
 1 cup crispy rice cereal
 1 cup raisins

In 4-quart glass mixing bowl, cook margarine and marshmallows in microwave oven on high 2 minutes. With hot pads, carefully remove from oven. Stir with rubber spatula. Cook on high 1 minute longer. Remove from microwave oven. Stir until smooth. Mix in peanut butter, stirring until mixture is combined.

With rubber spatula, stir in cereal and raisins, mixing until cereal is coated. Press mixture evenly in 13-by-9-inch buttered glass dish. Cool. Cut in 2-by-1 1/2-inch bars. Store in airtight glass storage dish. Makes 24 bars, 110 calories each.

Transfer to serving bowl. Add tomato and jicama.

In medium skillet, cook bacon until crisp. Remove bacon and all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add picante sauce, sugar and cumin to skillet. Bring to boil. Pour hot dressing over bean mixture. Toss to coat. Sprinkle with reserved bacon. Serve warm or at room temperature. Makes 6 servings.

Fruity

Ice Cream Bars

- 1 cup butter or margarine, melted
 1 cup brown sugar, packed
 4 cups plain granola, finely crushed
 1 cup wheat germ
 1 oz. chocolate minichips
 1 qt. vanilla ice cream
 2 cups finely chopped fresh nectarines or peaches (2 medium or 1 lb.)

Combine melted butter, sugar, granola, wheat germ and chocolate chips until moistened. Firmly press half the mixture in bottom of 9-by-13-inch baking pan. Briefly place in freezer to set.

Let ice cream soften slightly. Spread ice cream evenly over crumb crust. Layer fruit over ice cream. Cover with remaining crumb mixture, pressing gently into ice cream.

Place in freezer at least 2 hours until ice cream is frozen again. Cut in 2-by-3-inch bars. Wrap individually in plastic wrap. Freeze.

Makes 18 bars.

Brie And Bacon Omelet

- 2 tbs. butter or margarine
 2 tbs. chopped green onion
 4 eggs
 1 cup milk
 Pinch pepper
 2 oz. chopped brie cheese, skin removed
 4 slices bacon, cooked, drained, crumbled
 3 tbs. coarsely chopped toasted pecans

Fresh fruit, if desired

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet or omelet pan, tilting pan to coat bottom and sides. Sauté onion about 3 minutes until tender. Combine eggs, milk and pepper. Increase heat to high. Pour egg mixture into skillet. Stir once. Cook until edges begin to set.

Using a fork, gently pull edges of eggs away from sides of pan so uncooked portion flows under cooked edges. Continue until most of egg mixture is set, but surface of omelet is still slightly wet. Sprinkle cheese, bacon and nuts over top of omelet. Fold in half. Cut in 2 pieces. Garnish with fresh fruit. Serve immediately.

Makes 2 servings; 536 calories, 25 gm. protein, 47 gm. fat, 5 gm. carbohydrate each.

Bicycle Bars

- 1 cup margarine or butter
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) regular marshmallows (about 40) or 4 cups mini-marshmallows

Education fraternity announces slate

Gateway East Illinois Chapter, 1087 of Phi Delta Kappa, the education fraternity has posted its plans for 1990-91 projects and programs.

Two executive meetings were held during the summer on June 22 and July 31 at noon at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville for the purpose of planning. The meetings were chaired by President Andrea Williams, coordinator of the Illinois Administrators' Academy, Educational Service Center Region 16 in Belleville.

Vice President/Program, Scott Randolph, elementary principal at East St. Louis School District 189, outlined a schedule of six meetings and two special events for the coming year. Gateway East Committee members voted to accept the theme, Education for the 21st Century. Executive board meetings are held one hour prior to regular member meetings.

The six meetings are:

- Saturday, Oct. 6: Noon, University Center, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Initiation Ceremony. Program Presenter: Dr. Howard D. Hill, Director of Chapter Programs, Phi Delta Kappa Headquarters, Bloomington, Indiana.

- Thursday, Nov. 8: 6 p.m., Holiday Inn, Collinsville. Topic: Future of Education; Symposium followed by a forum. Four representatives from Madison and St. Clair Counties Education Offices and State Board of Education.

- Saturday, Dec. 1: 9 a.m., Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville. Topic: Legal Issues. Panel discussion based on questions submitted by members. Panelists will be chosen on the basis of questions received.

- Saturday, Feb. 2, 1991: 9 a.m., Char's Restaurant, Collinsville. Topic: Athletics and Education; Speaker from St. Louis Cardinals Office to be announced.

- Thursday, March 14, 1991: 6 p.m., Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville. Kappan-to-Kappan Mini Conference; Four chapter members, chosen from the papers submitted, will present concurrent workshops on educational issues addressing this year's theme.

- Saturday, April 6, 1991: Noon, Char's Restaurant, Collinsville. Awards and Installation of Officers, Speaker: Mary Cannon, Public Relations, Channel 4 KMOV-TV. Topic: Meeting Our Goals for the 21st Century.

Two special events include a Fastback Author Seminar with Dr. Claudia Cornett on Saturday, Nov. 17, 1990, at noon at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville. Dr. Cornett's fastback is entitled, Humor in the Classroom. A Laura Gibney Workshop will be held in March 1991. Gibney is Educational Consultant for College Admissions Consulting Services. The public is invited.

Phi Delta Kappa officers for the Gateway East Illinois Chapter for 1990-91 are:

President Andrea T. Williams; Vice President/Membership Clarence D. Hage; Vice President/Program Scott R. Randolph; Secretary Hazel E. Haun Loucks; Treasurer Alfred Leavelle.

Phi Delta Kappa is an education fraternity that encompasses the total range of educators from pre-school teachers through post-doctorate teachers. It includes instructional leaders, advisors, evaluators and supervisors. All members of the educational spectrum work together to benefit children, youth and mature members of society.

Parkview School honors phys ed students

Ann Johnson, physical education teacher at Parkview School, presented awards to outstanding physical education students at an end-of-year school assembly.

Broken records were presented to Matt Hartin, George Wolfe, Mark Mendenhall and Kyle Briggs for setting a new school record (28.0 seconds) in the relay. New records were established in the mile run/walk by Kristen Knox, Amanda Nizinski, Jason Peeler, Denise McMillan, Glenn Wolfe, Leslie Sampson and Jason Hall.

Fifth- and sixth-grade students who qualified for the National Fitness Award include: Angela Bailey, Amanda Crabtree, Eliza beth McKeegan, Anna Hollis, Jennifer Brown, Amanda Nizinski, Cheryl Guilford, Marcy Holsinger, Carla Pyles, Leslie Sampson, Justin Bernaia, Denise McMillan, Barbie Schannot and Jamie Warren.

Winners of the Presidential Physical Fitness Award: Mark Mendenhall and Glenn Wolfe (second year) and Kristen Knox, Ricky Whitehead, George Wolfe, Kyle Briggs and Sarah Shelton (first year).

Medal winners were Mark Mendenhall, Glenn Wolfe and Marcy Holsinger.

National Fitness Awards went to: (first grade) Ashley Barker, Jeremiah Beckley, Raechel

Gutierrez, Amanda Mendoza, Jennifer Meszaros, Brian Reese, Michael Smith, and Randy Whitehead; (second grade) Kristin Bernaia, Erin McCauley, Katey Yates, Heather Sugg, and Melissa White; (third grade) Dean Schannot, Crystal Cavins, Austin Manogian, Justin Stone, and Corey Winfield; (fourth grade) Ryan Haddix, Amy Monroe, Shannon Roth, Sara Schwager, Jessica Garrison, and Ryan Cochran. Presidential Citations went to: (first grade) Justin Worthen, Terry Tessary, John Vasquez, and Kristin Lamm; (third grade) Tim Shelton, Emilee Karlechik, Matt Roustlo, and Alicia Hartin; (fourth grade) Chuck Lamm, Keith Hopke and Casey Ashby.

APPRECIATION DINNER: Belleville Area College President, Dr. Joseph J. Cipf, congratulates Peggy Broadhurst of Granite City on her accomplishments as part of BAC's Early School leaver program as Clara Young, coordinator of the program, looks on. All three were attending an appreciation dinner honoring the student employees and their employers. Students in the program learn job skills, gain employment and complete the General Educational Development program through BAC. Among others congratulated that evening were Vernon House, Kerry Layton, Genny Jackson and Trish Botkin, all of Granite City.

All Madison School District kindergarten, fifth and new students to the district must turn in a complete physical examination and up-dated immunizations the first day of school, August 28, 1990.

Ninth grade students must turn in completed physical examinations when they pick up their class schedules.

If this obligation is not fulfilled, your child will be excluded from school. This is in compliance with state law.

A student entering a Madison School from another school district has 30 days from the date of enrollment to see that the required health records are transferred from the previous school. If the previous school did not require that a physical exam and complete immunization record be on file for kindergarten, or first, fifth, and ninth grade students, then that student MUST have a new physical exam and immunization record presented to school within 30 days of enrollment, regardless of grade. These requirements must be met within 30 days of enrollment or the student will be excluded from school.

Behind scenes look at Mel Gibson

Mel Gibson speaks in less than confident terms about the prospects of "Air America," his new film about a covert airline operation the CIA ran in Laos during the Vietnam War.

It's "an OK movie," he said with little enthusiasm. Although Gibson would not expand on the comment, his co-star, Robert Downey Jr., did. Downey said audiences will have trouble "labeling" the film because it has elements of action, comedy and drama. The film fails to define a specific direction in any of those categories, he said.

MEL GIBSON stars in "Air America."

lipoli." Sigourney Weaver in "The Year of Living Dangerously," Diane Keaton in "Mrs. Soffel," Michelle Pfeiffer in "Tequila Sunrise," Danny Glover in the two "Lethal Weapon" films, and with Goldie Hawn in this year's "Bird On A Wire."

Gibson said he now wants to take a year off to spend time with his family on a farm he owns. The 39-year-old actor is reticent to divulge specific information about his home or family, which includes six children between the ages of six months and 9 years, and said he longs for privacy.

There is conjecture in the film community that Gibson may be seeking time off to hide from the glare of potential negative publicity sparked by his performance in "Hamlet," an upcoming film in which he co-stars with Glenn Close.

Orion Pictures has indicated there will be a press gathering in November in New York City to promote the film, though Gibson said he is unaware that the film even has a distributor. Part of the problem with distribution is the film's three-hour running time.

"You can't do Hamlet in 90 minutes," Gibson said.

Publicity is not Gibson's favorite aspect of the business, although he does recognize it to be a necessary evil.

"I don't think promoting a film is pleasant or even normal," Gibson said. "But it's part of the work. It's the way you approach it. You can make it fun for yourself or it can be a drag."

"I don't beat myself up over it. I just try to enjoy it. Cleaning a grease trap can be fun if you set your mind to it."

One thing Gibson has set his mind on is quitting smoking. Since quitting four months ago he chews a lot of gum and takes frequent large swigs from an ever-present bottle of Evian water during interviews.

"It's bad for you," Gibson said of smoking. "My children were getting really worried. A child's sensibility is such that all the things they hear and read about smoking ring true to them."

"My kids think smoking equals death. A couple of them said they felt like they were watching me die in front of them. I couldn't do that to them any more. It was too cruel."

Harry Hamm

"Audiences like to pigeon-hole movies and if they can't get a handle on the film then they react for favorable word of mouth are not good," Downey said.

In "Air America," Gibson and Downey play pilots for the airline. Gibson is a renegade who eventually helps save a Laotian village from attacking Communist troops. He took flying lessons to prepare for the role, though he does not fly an airplane in the film. He hopes to get a private pilot's license after the completion of his promotional work for the film.

"Air America" is the latest in a chain of successes since Gibson came to stardom in 1979 via the Australian action fable "Mad Max." That film remains the biggest box-office hit ever from down under, raking in more than $100 million in receipts in North America.

Since "Max," Gibson has starred with Mark Lee in "Gal-

Legends to highlight blues fest

Nelson jumps at chance to make weather relevant

Give KMOV-TV (Channel 4) meteorologist Mike Nelson credit for thinking.

On a recent 10 p.m. newscast, Nelson showed viewers a map that included the temperature bedeviling U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia—108 degrees. Other weather reporters probably have presented the same information at one time or another, but it was ironic that, at almost the same time, Bob Richards of KSDK-TV (Channel 5) presented his "Thursday Weatherama," giving viewers temperatures from various spots around the world, but not from Saudi Arabia.

Weather people never should miss a rare opportunity to be relevant.

July TV ratings

Channel 5's powerhouse news department continued to dominate viewers' attention, according to the July Nielsen ratings (July 12 through Aug. 8).

Channel 5 continues to hold a substantial lead at every newscast. Channel 4 is second with roughly two-thirds of the audience commanded by Channel 5. Channel 2 stumbles along with an audience roughly one-third that of Channel 5.

An indication of Channel 2's utility is the horrible performance of the "ABC Evening News" at 5:30 p.m. The leader nationally, the program gets a poor 5 rating in St. Louis, while the "NBC Nightly News" on Channel 5 gets a 16. (Rating refers to the percentage of television sets in the market tuned to a specific program.

There were indications earlier this year that Channel 4, and maybe even Channel 2, might pick up some ground. But the stations' relative positions are approximately what they were in May, and, for that matter, what they were last July.

Middle East coverage

Perhaps because news people get swept away by patriotism, some of the coverage of the U.S. military presence in the Middle East seems to present information without attribution.

During an Aug. 12 newscast, the Cable News Network pronounced "the Pentagon's operation is moving according to plan," without citing whose plan or by whose definition. Later in the same story the anchor said the operation is moving at "full speed," again without attribution.

Ironically, almost simultaneously, U.S. Defense Secretary Richard Cheney was on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" refusing to give any details.

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

Circus coming to Arena

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's farewell tour for Gunther Gebel-Williams, one of the greatest animal trainers of all time, stops at the Arena on Sept. 11 through 16.

The 119th edition of the circus is a stellar salute to Gebel-Williams and includes singing ringmaster Eric Michael Gillett, the Royal Canadian Arsenal Ski Squadron, hula-hoop specialists Marie Perry and Dessi Kehaiova, roller-skating demons the Willers from England, and the Flying Lunas and the Flying Alejandros, the only trapeze troupe in the world to feature woman performing simultaneous triple somersaults.

There also will be clowns, acrobats and aerialists, in addition to Gebel-Williams and his animals.

Tickets are $11.50, $9.50 and $7.50 and are on sale at the Arena box office and all Ticket City outlets. Those who wish to charge tickets should call Dialtix at (314) 434-6600.

National entertainers set

BELLEVILLE — National performers are returning to Belleville this year as part of its annual Oktoberfest celebration.

Oktoberfest '90, which is part of the St. Clair County Bicentennial Celebration, announced the following acts to perform on the main stage in downtown Belleville: Friday, Sept. 21, Brewer and Shipley; Saturday, Sept. 22, Ozark Mountain Daredevils; and Sunday, Sept. 23, Bill Haley's Comets, and Charlie Brown and the Coasters.

Those who wish additional information should call Schrag at 397-9116 (work), 397-1787 (home), and Harnist at 233-5555 (work), or 277-8333 (home).
